MDJC Band marches with pride

The Trojan Band, fine-tuned under the direction of Mr. Wardell Herring, marched onto the field with pride this 1983 football season. Made up of horn and percussion lines, flag corps and rifle squad, along with the Deltettes, the Band practiced many hours to produce exciting halftime shows. To help boost school spirit, the group played during pep rallies, at all homegames, and at many out-of-town games.

The concert band was invited to perform at the Delta Winter Carnival in Greenwood in December.

The Jazz Ensemble was scheduled to make special appearances in Delta-area high schools in late spring.

Five band members were selected for participation in the 1984 All-State Band. They were Stacy Broadwater, Derrick Cooper, Tommy Crenshaw, Perry Nelson and Stephen Stanfill.

I know you are not anything astounding,
And, to be quite sincere, I don't much care.

Cutbacks continue to plague local budget-makers

By: MIKE MEEKS

Dr. J.T. Hall, president of MDJC, recently announced that another budget cut in state appropriations is probable.

At the beginning of the semester, the college underwent a 5 percent cut in the local budget–a decrease of $140,000. The decrease was prompted by a short fall in the state revenue collections. A cut of $46,000,000 was made. This cut proved to be $2,000,000 short of what was actually collected.

Hence, the likelihood of another cut from the state-level to recover $2,000,000.

Dr. Hall said that lately he has been spending most of his time studying budgets. He says that his efforts are still directed toward avoiding cuts in staff salaries. "It is a tough thing to consider cutting salaries for everyone," said Hall. "This would probably lead to the terminating of some jobs, but everyone who works here is needed, or, some services would be cut out."

"Seventy-eight percent of the college budget goes to salaries and fringe benefits for employees," said Hall. "Only 22 percent can be cut without salaries being decreased."

Dr. Hall pointed out that universities are not cutting salaries and high schools are not being affected by the cuts. "I don't want college salaries to fall below those of high schools. I will try every way I can, short of closing the doors, to not cut salaries," said Hall.

Dr. Hall said that current budget-saving measures include the monitoring of buying supplies. Supplies which can be purchased later are being delayed to avoid buildup in inventories at the end of the year. Hall said that an exact percentage of supplies cut cannot be set. Cutbacks in instructional supplies greatly affect certain areas such as some of the vocational-technical classes. "You can't teach without supplies in such classes as welding, sheet metal, and refrigeration," said Dr. Hall. Another area that is being monitored is utility use. "There will be more days without air or heat in all of the campus buildings," said Dr. Hall.

Dr. Hall is considering the use of an energy-free month–a money-saving procedure already in use at some colleges. "Everyone will be notified ahead of time and they must dress for that day even if i means dressing like you would to sit in duck blind all day," said Dr. Hall. "W might try it in April."

Dr. Hall said that the ½ percent sale tax becomes effective Jan. 1. That tax i supposed to give funding for education.

"There needs to be a new tax levied t get additional funds for education," Dr Hall said. "I am very optimistic, if special session of the Legislature is cal ed, that we will be okay."

Dr. Hall said: "if a cut of $40,000 i made, I can live with that, but if the cut c $150,000 is made, I will have to make drastic move."

Homecoming to feature parade, alumni, royalty

Homecoming activities are developing according to schedule with Coach Buddy Walden as coordinator in conjunction with the student government association.

Election of homecoming maids was held last Tuesday, and results are spotlighted in pictures in today's edition.

On Oct. 4 (Tuesday), at "K" period, the homecoming assembly will take place. Details of the assembly were not available at presstime.

Oct. 8, the final and grandest day of the celebration, will feature an afternoon parade, a modeling squad show, an alumni meeting, and the coronation ceremonies at the night game.

The parade, set for 1:30 p.m. through downtown Moorhead, will take place. At presstime only four people had contacted Coach Walden about entering a float in the parade, but he would like for more participants to contact him.

"Right now, only four people have asked about entering floats, but I want everyone to know that there will be prizes awarded," said Walden. First prize winner will receive $75; second, $50; and third, $30.

The alumni will meet at 5 p.m. in the Student Union. Dean Travis Thornton will preside at the business meeting. An Alumnus of the Year will also be recognized.

The kick-off time for the game with Holmes Junior College Bulldogs will be 7:30. The MDJC Band and Delta Dancers will perform during half-time instead of before the game. Presentation of the court will be made following the band performance. Dr. J.T. Hall will crown the queen.

After the game SGA will sponsor the Homecoming Dance which will begin at 10 and will be held in the Coliseum.

The SGA will sponsor a fireworks display sometime prior to Homecoming Day. Coach Walden wants everyone to know that any group or organization that wants to enter the parade may do so. They should contact Walden for further information.

This year the homecoming royalty will be presented in the parade in cars instead of on a float.

Former champs to return

Plans for the reunion honoring the members of the 1962 state championship team, which is planned as a highlight of the Homecoming 1983 celebration, are developing well, according to Coach Jimmy Bellipanni, coordinator of the event.

The first state champs wearing Trojan jersies played for coaches Jim Randall, Jimmy Bellipanni and Carl Grubb. The college was then known as Sunflower Junior College.

"That was really a fine group of boys. I remember that there were no out-of-state players on the 33-member team; it was an all-district team," said Coach Bellipanni.

Bellipanni recalls that this team lost its first two outings, but they struggled hard and won the next nine straight. They defeated what was then mighty East Mississippi Junior College on their home turf at Scooba for the championship.

Bellipanni has contacted all of the former team members, and many of them plan to return for the alumni celebration.

Among those on the team that were standouts were John Garrison, a cornerback from Rosedale; Buddy Hodges of Itta Bena who went on to play for Mississippi State; and Steve Oswalt, now mayor of Moorhead.

"Everyone of these boys has been most successful in their adult lives. Most of them are still living around here. Only nine went out-of-state," said Bellipanni.

Bellipanni said that he hopes that everyone is looking forward to welcoming the group back to campus as much as he is.

'83-'84 Homecoming Royalty

Promises of 'Christmas to Come' to appear after Thanksgiving break

The MDJC campus and the town of Moorhead will begin showing sings of the approaching Christmas season soon after everyone returns from the Thanksgiving Holiday break. The season will be marked by lights, decorations, and Christmas cheers.

•The Modeling Squad will stage its annual Christmas Show in the Union, November 29.

•The Town of Moorhead will light its three-dimension Christmas display on campus and hold its civic club community Christmas party December 1.

•The MDJC Singers will present the Christmas portion of The Messiah, December 6, in the Union.

•Stennis-Penrod dorm residents will gather together materials for their annual Christmas dorm door decoration competition and open dorm celebration. They will be competing for prizes of $25, $20, and $15.

•The MDJC Baptist Student Union is preparing to sponsor several foster children by providing them with clothing and toys for Christmas.

The Moorhead Chamber of Commerce sponsors the annual campus lighting project. Chamber members, assisted by Town Manager Jimmy Griffin and the MDJC maintenance staff, will erect the three-dimensional figures – a snowman, a santa claus, and a Christmas tree. Pin lights will also be draped on adjacent shrubs. The display will again be set-up in the campus area between the Administration building and Tanner Hall. Mrs. Beverly Nobile, vice-president of the local chamber of commerce, pointed out that the lights, which were jointly paid for by MDJC, the chamber, and local civic clubs have been completely paid for and consequently should be especially enjoyed by everyone this year.

Rev. Tom McLaughlin, BSU director, said that anyone who wants to help sponsor a child should contact him at the Union.

Details of the MDJC Singers show are printed elsewhere in this issue. Final details of the modeling show and open dorm were not available at presstime.

Dancers to do Christmas show

The annual Christmas dance recital featuring the Delta Dancers is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 2:15 p.m. and Wednesday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p.m.

Although all dance classes taught at MDJC will present a dance number, the program will feature the Delta Dancers (guys and gals). The program will demonstrate a variety of dance patterns including tap, jazz, modern, disco, areobics, and "surprises."

The new male dancers and their partners who will be performing are: Bradley Wilkinson and Jaymee Vowell, Jay Madison and Deanna Christman, Sandy Sanspree and Mary John, Carl Grubb and Robin West, Jimmy Reames and Karla Nobile.

John Counts and Cindy Robinson, Robin Augostinelli and Rae Ferguson, John Jackson and Beth Brocato, Andy Noah and Kae Ferguson, Nat Baker and Angela Acy, Jim Steward and Lynn Chandler Steven Richardson and Sharon Richardson, Terrell Raby and Cindy Upchurch Mike Gibson and Lisa Sutherland, Jim Kelly and Robin Ainsworth, Kendal Birch and Marlece Lusk, Andrew Boyd and Nancy Guest, and Randy Hirsberg and Maleah Davis.

Instructor and choreographer for the group is Mrs. Betty Aden of the Physical Education department.

SINGERS TO PRESENT MESSIAH

The MDJC Singers will present the Christmas portion of the George F. Handel Messiah, on Tuesday night, December 6, at 7:30 in the Vandiver Student Union.

"For the first time since 1975, we have a chorus capable of doing this work," said Director Joe Abrams.

Abrams said that the experience the choir will get from performing this major work will benefit them in years to come.

Abrams said that he hopes to use student soloists on the challenging work. Soloists will be announced closer to the performance date.

The 25-member group rehearses Monday and Wednesday afternoons at 2:10. Section leaders chosen for the '83-'84 Singers are Ruth Heard, soprano; Gwen Dickson, alto; David Taylor, tenor; and Marvin Young, bass. Mrs. Merle Tolbert, instructor in music, is accompanying the group.

ART CLUB SALE

November 22

STUDENT UNION BUILDING

Bazaar underway

The Art Club Christmas Bazaar gets underway today in Vandiver Student Union at 10 a.m. The Bazaar will remain open until 2 p.m.

Original works of art, drawings, and painting will be on sale. Proceeds from this project are used to sponsor club acitivites and to purchase works of art for the Yeates Gallery.

"The sale project began about 18 years ago with the purpose of promoting art club activities and trips to regional art galleries so that students could meet artists firsthand," said Mrs. Jean Abrams, club adviser.

Mrs. Abrams pointed out that part of the proceeds from previous bazaars was used to purchase the wood sculpture that sits outside the painting room.

Mrs. Abrams says that she hopes all students and faculty will support the bazaar. "We hope that everyone has not spent all of their money at the Garden Club Bazaar which was held yesterday. We don't object to the garden club having a bazaar on campus, but it's a town activity and ours is a campus activity," said Mrs. Abrams.

Planners work on new cafeteria

By: RUTH BELCHER

Future patrons of MDJC's cafeteria can look forward to shorter lines and faster service if plans for a new cafeteria currently on the drawing board materialize.

Plans are underway for a new structure expected to cost about one million dollars.

The new addition to Vandiver Union will face south and be located east of the union.

Vice Pres. Sam Stafford, who is coordinating the project, says that the facility is being planned to accommodate a maximum of 400 patrons and will be equipped with two serving lines.

The architectural firm of George Oakman of Greenville designed the plans that call for two private dining rooms, a full kitchen, and a special student affairs office to provide temporary shelter for students who become ill at school.

Stafford said the present cafeteria will become an extended portion of the student union.

The cafeteria will be open for service in about two years. Stafford said that another year of planning and a year of actual construction will be required before the facility can be put to use.

Stafford said that a construction firm will be selected through public bid procedures after Oakman has finished its plans.

"The new cafeteria will be more adequate and better able to serve students than the present one," said Stafford.

Pool hall renovated

Knight's Pool Hall on Washington Street has enlarged its facilities.

The Knights bought the burned-out building next door to their original site, and are remodeling it.

"We did it to give the kids more room," said Mrs Doyle Knight.

The Knights have moved their kitchen into the new area. They have added a larger grill and other kitchen items to replace older ones.

Several booths have been added so that people can now sit down to eat.

"I've even seen some kids studying as they eat," said Mrs. Knight.

The Knights added ceiling fans to cool the new areas. They also plan to add additional pool tables. New restroom facilities are also being added.

George McDaniel, a pool-hall employee did most of the major construction work.

Depot closes

The Depot, a short-lived nightspot in Moorhead, recently closed its doors. The Depot was closed due to a large decline in business. "Students began going elsewhere," said Paul Staples, owner of the establishment.

Staples opened The Depot last year to give students a place to go that was located in town. "I had talked to the Mayor and other townspeople about opening a place in Moorhead," said Staples. "They seemed to feel that there would be less chance of students getting hurt if the place was in town."

Staples said that business was good at times last year.

"We enjoyed the kids at MDJC because they were real friendly," said Staples. "I'm sorry, but it just didn't work out."

Chuck Morgan of Greenwood was managing The Depot.

The building is for sale now. Staples said that the price for the building is $25,000 or $30,000 for the building and furnishings. Furnishings include chairs, tables, lighted dance floor, beer boxes, and stereo system, etc.

Staff to attend workshop

The Publications staff plans to attend the annual Mississippi Junior College Press Association (MJCPA) fall conference.

The conference will be hosted by Northwest Mississippi Junior College on its Southaven campus, Oct. 6-7.

Workshops on yearbook design, news photography, and feature writing will be conducted by professional media representatives from Taylor Publishing Company the The Commercial Appeal.

Nine students and adviser Laney Wooten will represent MDJC.

Band grows

Band Director Wardell Herring has boosted the membership in the 1983 Trojan Marching Band to a "resounding" 80 members as the group enters its fall parade season.

Herring says that he is impressed with the quality of students this year.

Drum major for the group is Ricky Dixon, a Leland High School graduate. Herring says that, besides performing at all the home football games, the band will also travel to three "away" games.

"Emphasis will be placed on entertaining the fans in all our shows," said Herring.

The band will also do floor shows for several high schools and will participate in Christmas parades in the Delta area. Dates and places will be announced later by director Herring.

Minorities struggle for change

"I think homosexuality is disgusting. If God had meant for everybody to be homesexual, He would have had an Adam and an Adam, or, an Eve and an Eve," said a friend recently.

Somehow, this statement reminds me of the once skeptical, but popular, saying: "If God had meant for man to fly, he would have put men on earth with wings."

While a lot of bigotry towards homosexuals stems from ignorance, some is inspired by plain hatred or malice.

Without such people as David Bowie and Tennessee Williams, both of whom admitted their homosexuality, the world would have missed talents that are rarely seen or heard about in music and literature.

True, homosexuality has been defined as "perverted" by Webster's dictionary. What isn't stated is that when surveys are run, results indicate that fewer homosexuals go to jail for rape and other perverted acts of violence than do "straight" men.

There are many bad traits in all races, sexual preferences, religions, and creeds. But, minorities in these categories tend to be victimized by public opinion and media coverage.

Being strong enough to be oneself in a minority situation is a constant challenge. That challenge seems to be especially difficult now for homosexuals who are asking for fair treatment by the public.

JANICE WILSON

Game room moved

The Trojan Shield has once again ecome a recreation center for MDJC tudents.

The Shield, which was once the MDJC tudent Union, is the square building ocated between the Stanny Sanders Memorial Library and the Horton Science uilding.

Pool tables and video game machines ere moved from Vandiver Union to the ield during the summer break. "This is temporary location for this equipment orced on us by the overcrowding in the Union," said Vice Pres. Sam Stafford. He aid that plans are being drafted to build new cafeteria and that as soon as the ew cafeteria is built, the equipment may e relocated.

"When the new cafeteria is built, the Union will be converted into a full union facility, and the game room will be moved back," said Mr. Stafford.

Plans have also been made to remodel the grill in the Union. Mr. Stafford said that funds for all of the construction have been requested from the boards of supervisors. He said that their decisions will be made by the end of September.

"We've known for a long time that the college had outgrown the cafeteria," said Mr. Stafford. But, Stafford pointed out, new wings had to be added to both dormitories and new buses had to take priority over the cafeteria project.

DORM TALK

By JENNY SHAFFER

Here we are again, back for another dose of MDJC after the Christmas break.

As we can all see, there are a lot of new faces wandering around the dorm. Some of these girls say they don't like it here, but they'll get used to it sooner or later. There seems to be much moving around lately. Moving from room to room seems to be a favorite pastime. Wendy and Teresa seem to know a great deal about this activity.

Recently, too, a big gang of girls have started hanging around together. With Lynn, Donna, Gwen, Ruth, Sally, Shona, Teresa, Wendy, Gina, Susan, and me, you know that the group is enough to terrorize anyone. Secretly, though, we're planning to take over the school.

Another holiday tradition which is much in evidence here is the acquisition of engagement rings. If you want to see some of the beautiful ones, look on Jane Harris' or Tracy Langford's hands.

I've heard that there is a new place to party besides Macon Lake. It seems that there is a very attractive barn on Macon Lake road. Certainly that will be a good change of scenery.

Herald changes

The Delta Herald is being printed off-campus for the first time since 1967.

Typesetting for the paper is done in the Delta Publishing Company (Enterprise-Tocsin) facilities. Printers at the Greenwood Commonwealth complete the paper using camera-ready paste-ups prepared by the Herald staff.

"We welcome this challenge of larger format, and altered deadlines, and we appreciate the reader response to the changed appearance evident in our first issue this year," said Miss Laney Wooten, adviser.

The Herald will be published bimonthly, except for holidays in an eight-page tabloid format.

Reporting for The Herald is done primarily by the Basic Reporting class.

"The expansion of the newspaper gives the student reporters more practical experience in journalism, and students are able to cover events more thoroughly," said editor Jaymee Vowell.

Staff pushes deadline

The Publications staff will burn the midnight oil this week as they push to meet their first deadline on the 1984 Retrospect, college yearbook.

Jimmy Williamson, editor-in-chief, and his 22-member staff must finish the opening signature (color section) by October 15.

Vivian Carley, Bill Campbell, Mike Meeks, Ruth Heard, Ludie Rosser, and Troy Stapp are working with Williamson on the photography, layout, and copy for the 16-page signature.

Freshman commercial art majors, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Abrams, are completing the cover design, which must also be submitted with the first shipment to the printer, Paragon Press in Montgomery, Alabama.

"A complicating factor in production this year is that all color and black and white candid photography must be student produced in order that we may qualify for state competition," said Miss Laney Wooten, advisor for the publication staff. "Needless to say, there will be a number of re-takes. We hope everybody will be patient."

Assistant editors to Williamson, who is a diesel mechanics major from Fort Walton Beach, Fla., are Ludie Rosser, Moorhead (faculty and staff); Bill Campbell, Carrollton; Ruth Heard, Greenwood; Perry Nelson, Greenville (student directory).

Other deadlines for the book are November 1, December 1, and February 1. The 192 page 9" x 12" book will be delivered in late April.
